New year. Old rates.

It's been over two years since we've raised our rates.

We know the economy has been tough on you... it's been tough on us, too. So while others are raising their rates to make up for lost business, we're holding the line.

We want you to call us when you need us - and raising our prices probably wouldn't be much encouragement.

So go ahead. Call us. We're here for you.
